Australia vs South Africa

The Rugby Championship 2024

Opta Facts

- South Africa have won each of their last two Test matches against Australia, as many as they won across their eight games against the Wallabies prior to that span (W2 D2 L4); the last time the Springboks recorded a longer winning run against the Wallabies was a three-match span from September 2012 to September 2013.

- South Africa will be aiming for back-to-back Test victories against the Wallabies in Australia for the first time since July 1993, following the Springboks' 24-8 win against Australia the last time they visited (3 September 2022 in Sydney).

- Australia have won their last four Test matches, including all three in 2024; the last time the Wallabies recorded a longer winning run to begin a calendar year was a five-match span in 2008.

- South Africa have won 13 of their last 15 Test matches (L2), including a 64-21 victory against Portugal last time out; each of the Springboks' two defeats in that span have come against Ireland (24-25 – 13 July 2024 and 8-13 – 23 September 2023).

- South Africa have made 10.8 offloads per game in Test matches in 2024, the most of any Tier One nation this year; in addition, the Springboks have made dominant contact on 13.8 tackles per game this year, the second most of any Tier One team (Italy – 15.6 per game).

- Australia have conceded 11.3 turnovers per game in Test matches in 2024, the fewest of any Tier One nation this year; only Argentina (15.33 per game) have recorded more than South Africa (15.25 per game) in this category.

- Australia's Marika Koroibete gained the most metres of any player in The Rugby Championship last year (226) with his average gain of 7.8 metres behind the best rate of the 22 players to make 20+ carries in the tournament; the Wallabies winger also beat the joint most defenders (11, level with Mark Tele'a) and won the joint most turnovers of any back (3, level with Jordie Barrett).

- RG Snyman (South Africa) has made 10 offloads in just 182 minutes in Test rugby in 2024, an average of 4.4 offloads per 80 minutes – no other Tier One player has averaged three or more per 80 minutes this year; in fact, only James Lowe (12 for Ireland) and Damian Penaud (11 for France) have recorded more in total in 2024.

- Jake Gordon (Australia) has seen six of his 21 kicks from hand this year retained by a Wallabies player, his 29% kick retention rate is the best of any of the 25 Tier One player to attempt 20+ kicks in Test rugby in 2024.

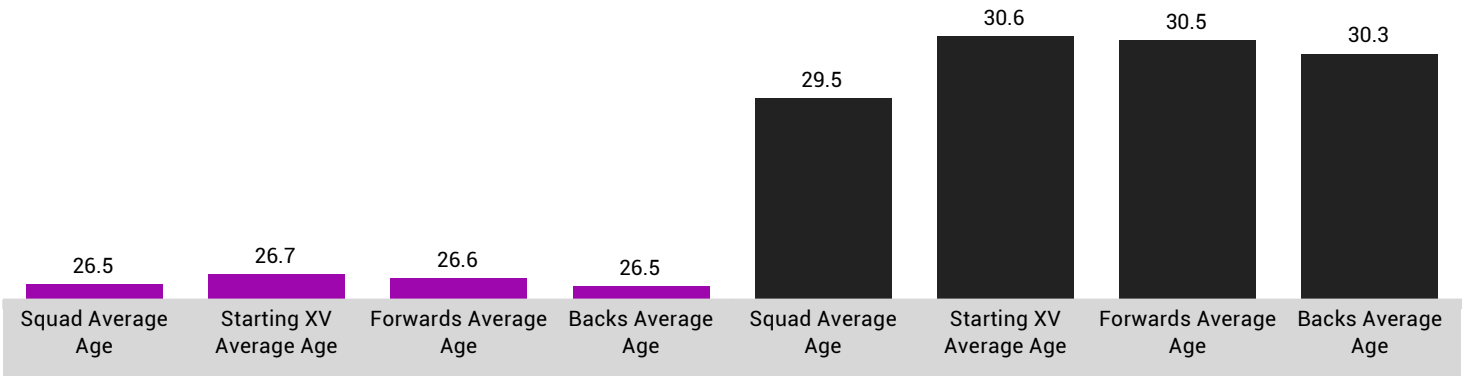

- Of Tier One players to make 10+ carries into contact in Test rugby this year, just three have a dominant carry rate of 70% or better – South African trio Ben-Jason Dixon (83%), Lukhanyo Am (82%) and Makazole Mapimpi (79%).
