New Zealand vs Australia

The Rugby Championship 2024

Opta Facts

- New Zealand have lost only one of their last 13 Test matches against Australia (W11 D1) and have won their last eight meetings in succession; although, each of the All Blacks' last two wins against the Wallabies in that span have come by an exact margin of three points on the day.

- New Zealand are undefeated in their last five Test matches against Australia in Wellington (W4 D1), after winning only one of their five meetings in the city prior to that span (W1 L4); the All Blacks have conceded only 10.8 points per game across those last five games against the Wallabies in the city.

- Australia have won only one of their last five Test matches (L4) – a 20-19 victory against Argentina (31 August 2024); the Wallabies have lost of each their two games since then though they have scored more points across those two defeats (55) than they logged from their three Tests prior (39 – W1 L2).

- New Zealand have won only one of their last seven Test matches in Wellington (D2 L4) – a 26-13 victory against France (16 June 2018); the All Blacks are winless in their five games in the city since then (D2 L3) – their longest winless run in the city.

- New Zealand have scored 2.95 points per attacking 22m entry in The Rugby Championship 2024 – the most of any team in the tournament; Australia have conceded 64 attacking 22m entries in the campaign, 20 more than any other team (New Zealand – 44).

- Australia have stolen nine opposition lineouts in The Rugby Championship 2024, the joint-most of any team in the tournament (also New Zealand – 9); although, the Wallabies recorded only one in this category against New Zealand last time out (21 September 2024) – the first time in 2024 the Wallabies had not done so multiple times.

- Rieko Ioane (New Zealand) has made dominant contact on 64% of his 35 carries (18/35) in The Rugby Championship 2024 – the best rate of any player in the tournament (min. 10 carries); he's made three line breaks across his last three Test matches, more than he logged in his seven games prior for the All Blacks (2).

- Australia duo Josh Nasser (23/24 – 96%) and Matt Faessler (48/52 – 92%) have the best tackle success rates of any players in The Rugby Championship 2024 (min. 20 tackles); in addition, Nasser's accuracy on lineout throws (17/19 – 89%) is the third best of any player in the campaign (min. 10 throws).

- Caleb Clarke (New Zealand) has scored seven tries in his last seven Test matches, including at least one try in each of his last four games (5 tries in total); indeed, he's scored four tries in The Rugby Championship 2024 – Andrew Kellaway (7 for Australia in 2021) was the last player to log more at a single edition of the tournament.

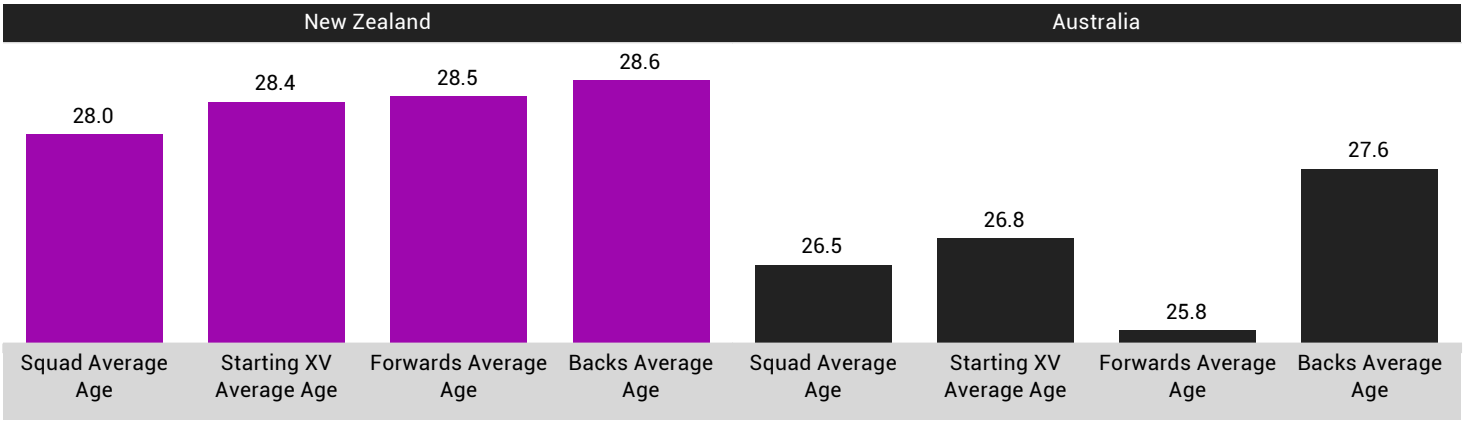

- Hunter Paisami (Australia) has scored three tries in his last four Test matches, including one against New Zealand last time out; he had not crossed the try line across all his 26 career appearances for the Wallabies prior to that span.
